Hayly, we also need to extend the invite to Susan Bodine, Brittany Bolen, and see who OAR recommends to attend. Thanks.

Hi Ryan,

Alex Oehler and I talked with regard to the above, and he suggested that I e-mail you with a request for a meeting with Administrator Wheeler to discuss the Keystone XL pipeline project. Our President & CEO, Russ Girling, will be in Washington DC in early December and we were wondering if some time on the morning of December 5th would work?

I can be contacted at this e-mail address or if someone would like to call me, my number is Ex. 6

Many thanks and I look forward to hearing from you.

Judith

Memorandum

Re: Call w/Russ Girling, TransCanada

Date: Friday, December 7, 2018

Time: 2:45 – 3:15 pm

Russ Girling

Russ Girling became President and CEO of TransCanada Corporation in 2010. Girling joined TransCanada in 1994 and has served as Chief Operating Officer, President of Pipelines, Executive Vice-President of Corporate Development, Chief Financial Officer, and Executive Vice-President of Power. Girling is the former Chairman of the Interstate Natural Gas Association of America (INGAA) and the Natural Gas Council (NGC).

TransCanada Corporation

TransCanada Corporation is a Calgary-based energy infrastructure company. The company generates over $13 billion in annual revenue and employs 7,200 workers. TransCanada's Liquids Pipelines division includes 3,045 miles of oil pipeline, which ships 555,000 barrels of crude oil per day (approx. 20% of Western Canadian crude oil exports). The company's natural gas pipeline network includes 57,104 miles of gas pipeline, which transports more than 25% of North American natural gas demand.

Keystone XL

Keystone XL is the planned fourth phase of the Keystone oil pipeline system owned by TransCanada. The Keystone XL project would consist of approximately 1,204 miles of new pipeline extending from Alberta to Nebraska, and would cross the international border between Saskatchewan, Canada and Morgan, Montana. The pipeline would have the capacity to deliver up to 830,000 bpd of crude oil.

TransCanada's permit application for Keystone XL was rejected twice under the previous administration (Jan. 2012 and Nov. 2015). In January 2017, President Trump issued a Presidential Memorandum regarding construction of the Keystone XL Pipeline, inviting TransCanada to re-submit its application and directing agencies to take all actions necessary to facilitate its expeditious review. TransCanada resubmitted its application and was approved for a permit in March 2017.
